REVIVING A DORMANT JUDGMENT

A judgment becomes dormant if no action is taken to enforce it for a period of five (5) years.

The Judgment Creditor (the person who has the judgment) may file a motion to revive the judgment any time within the next ten (10) years.

Once a judgment is revived, it is enforceable and the Judgment Creditor can take steps to collect the judgment. The judgment will become dormant in five years if no action to collect is taken.

To revive a dormant judgment the Judgment Creditor can take the following steps.

1. Prepare a "Motion to Revive Dormant Judgment" and Entry for Revivor of Judgment. The forms are available at <http://smallclaims.fmcclerk.com/home/court-forms> and in the Small Claims Division. You will need the original forms, a copy for your records and one for each of the defendants.
2. The cost to file the Motion for Revivor is $30.00 for up to three defendants. You will need to provide Instructions for Service to the Clerk that tell the Clerk you are requesting service for the defendant(s) at the address you provide and the kind of service you want. Instructions are available at <http://smallclaims.fmcclerk.com/home/court-forms>, in the Small Claims Division or the Clerk's Civil Division, 375 S. High St., 3rd floor.
3. The Clerk will prepare a summons to send with a copy of the Motion to Revive Dormant Judgment. The Judgment Debtor(s) has 28 days from the date when the motion is served to respond. To determine the date the Judgment Debtor was served, you can check the public access page of the Clerk's web site: www.fmcclerk.com. If the information is not available on the web page, you may call the Clerk of Court at 645-7020 and ask the clerk to look this up in your case file. The Revivor will not be approved until there is service of process. (More information about service is at www.fmcclerk.com under Small Claims.) If the Judgment Debtor responds to the motion, the case will be referred to a judge for consideration.
4. If the Judgment Debtor(s) does not respond by the 31st day after service, you may file the "Entry for Revivor of Judgment" with the Clerk on the 3rd floor. You may send the Entry to the Clerk of Court by mail. To obtain a copy of the final Entry, enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope with the Entry.
5. A Judgment creditor is entitled to the interest that would apply to the original Judgment. Usually you cannot calculate interest for the time the judgment is dormant. There are some exceptions to this general rule. If you use the Judgment Interest Calculator in the Forms Section of the Small Claims Division of the web page: <http://smallclaims.fmcclerk.com/home/court-forms>, you can determine the time that your judgment accrues interest. A Judgment Interest Calculation Form is also available in the Small Claims Division.
