Rule 10. Court Reporters and Transcripts

- 10.01 Court reporters. Compensation of shorthand reporters is set by the court. Compensation for transcripts shall be paid to the reporter preparing the transcripts by the party for whose benefit the transcript is made prior to delivery of the transcript. When a reporter is demanded before trial and where the fee is paid, and a reporter is unavailable, continuance of the trial may be had until a reporter is available.
- 10.02 Extension of time for transmitting the record on appeal. Any application for extension of time for transmitting a record to the Court of Appeals shall include an entry which sets forth the factual findings constituting good cause for such extension. No application will be entertained which would extend time beyond the seventieth day after the filing of the notice of appeal.
